English Job Interview

HR: Hi, thank you for coming today, please have a seat.

Web Developer: Hi, thank you.

HR:I’m going to ask you a couple of questions, could you tell me about your background and if you are working on any personal project?

Web Developer: Well I have some experience in JS, CSS and HTML that is the frontside of the page, and also I have coded in C# and Java for backend and servers communication, also I learnt SQL for database manipulation.

HR: Good, so do you have any qualifications such as vocational training or any degree?

Web Developer:I’m on my second year of vocational training in web development where I’ve worked with these tools and I think I have strong command of them

HR:That’s wonderful, what we offer is 42000 a year, a 500 dollars stipend flexible ours and we work remotely, how do you feel about that?

Web Developer: I see it as an opportunity to discover what it is, I’ve always wanted to work like that cause I think I would focus more and I will be more comfortable and even comfortable enough to end every task before the deadline, do you offer any career growth?

HR:We do offer a course budget, but could you be more specific about how you manage async communication and time without supervision?

Web Developer:My training as vocational school has help me to maintain deadlines and be more professional and autonomous

HR:Thank you for coming in, we will review your application and get back to you as soon as possible.

Web Developer:Thank you, would you call me if the application is down?

HR: Yes, we will.